If you become Chartered with the CISI then your firm can use this to contribute towards the criteria for becoming a CISI Chartered Firm™. This includes a requirement that 50% of your firm's employees are individually Chartered and you would count towards this criteria. The full requirements for becoming a CISI Chartered Firm™ can be found here.

30. How will Chartered status affect Institute members?

By belonging to a Chartered professional body, members will benefit from enhanced status in the industry and wider society. Members will be part of an organisation, which holds the respect of a global community, and can demonstrate their commitment to high standards of professionalism. There will be little doubt in consumers' minds that Chartered members of the CISI are highly regarded and qualified professionals and, as a consequence, will be required to act as such.
